THE PARISH NEWSLETTER
22nd SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
SUNDAY 28th August AD 2016

Welcome to the Parish Church where, after the example of the early church, we celebrate the Eucharist: the "apostles teaching and fellowship, the breaking of bread and the prayers" (Acts 2:42)

In the Gospel Reading this morning Jesus has been invited to dine in the house of a leading Pharisee. The Pharisees were so convinced of their own perfect knowledge and observance of the law, that they thought nobody else could possibly know it or observe it as perfectly as they did. In a very simple parable, Jesus told them where their pride would lead them.

A proud Christian, that is, a proud follower of the humble Christ, is a contradiction in terms. Christ, the Son of God, lowered himself to our level when He took our human nature. He was born in a stable, reared in the obscure village of Nazareth, earned his meagre meals as a country carpenter, died on a cross as a malefactor with two thieves as companions and was buried in a God's banquet. Thank God, there are few whose pride leads them to these extremes, but there are far too many who set themselves up as judges over their neighbour and appoint themselves as the models to be imitated by all others.

If we are honest there is an element of pride in each one of us. There is a natural inclination in each one to esteem ourselves a little better in most ways, if not in all, than our neighbour. We must keep this in check and not let it grow in us. Any gifts of mind or body that we have are from God — our duty is to use them properly and to thank God for the loan of them. If He gave greater gifts to another, then thank God for it. Another was able to make better use of them than we would. We have enough gifts to go on. We shall not be judged on the use or abuse of gifts which we did not receive.

If we use all the gifts which God gave us, to help my neighbour, the spiritually poor, the lame and blind, to heaven, instead of keeping ourselves aloof from them as the Pharisees did, then our judgment will be easy. We shall be "repaid in the resurrection of the just."

A proud Christian sets himself up as a critic of God's wisdom. He muses: God forgives sinners too easily. God doesn't know them as well as I do. That conversion cannot be trusted, it will not last, he says. The "sinners" prosper, they are blessed with good health, a happy family, more than their share of the world's goods, and here am I who never failed God, who always did what was right and even more, and I am neglected by God. God doesn't know his real friends!

These are the questionings of a proud soul. Such Christians raise themselves above their neighbours in their own minds. They choose the first places, and from their self-appointed heights they look down on their fellow guests. Could Jesus have done more to induce us to listen to his counsel than when He said: "Learn of me, for I am humble of heart?"

MASS TEXTS PROPER TO TODAY'S OBSERVANCE

Reflection prior to Mass

In today's Mass we are invited to turn our thoughts to compassion made real in gentleness, to a way of living that represents a radical alternative to the self-centred aggressiveness and violence that so often characterises human affairs. The Gospel way demands that we know how to be last and least if we are to give leadership in a genuinely Christian fashion. Power and control must be transformed by love, insight, compassion and solidarity.

The Collect

Almighty God, whose only Son has opened for us a new and living way into your presence: give us pure hearts and steadfast wills to worship you in spirit and in truth; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

The Responsorial Psalm

(from Psalm 68)

R/. In your goodness, O God, you prepared a home for the poor.

The just shall rejoice at the presence of God,
they shall exult and dance for joy.
O sing to the Lord, make music to his name;
rejoice in the Lord, exult at his presence. ®

Father of the orphan, defender of the widow,
such is God in his holy place.
God gives the lonely a home to live in;
he leads the prisoners forth into freedom. ®

You poured down, O God, a generous rain:
when your people were starved you gave them new life.
It was there that your people found a home,
prepared in your goodness, O God, for the poor. ®

Lord. Amen.

Communion Reflection:

Lord Jesus, what we have celebrated today is beyond what eye can see or ear hear, For you bring us into the very presence of your Father through these great mysteries. You have spoken your word to us, a word of service and humility: plant it deeply in our minds and hearts. You give us an example by giving yourself to us: keep it always before our eyes. As you have come to us in this sacred banquet: may our words and actions bring your love to all those we meet this week.
